PUZZLE PICTURES

Mary E. and Herbert Taylor write

"Hattie, Nannie and Edna Howse, deserve special honor. Neither of the little ladies is yet seven years old, yet all three write their own answers—
or rather, print them—and each, though they do not live at the same place write the first line thus:

"Is any man has bre's so ded."

Julia Bradshaw's (LaGrange, Ky.)

correct and beautifully written answer came in an envelope bearing this interesting postal transit record:

"Westport, Ky., July 12, P. M."

"LaGrange, Ky., July 12, 5 P. M."

"Louisville, Ky., July 13, 9 a. m."

"Pensacola, July 14, 5 p. m. received."

Floyd Rice's correct answers to the Puzzles of July 9, postmarked

"Apalachicola, July 13, 6:30 a. m." and

"received, Pensacola, July 13, 11 p. m."

"did not reach the Journal till 12 midnight, several hours too late, though the time from Apalachicola to this office was certainly satisfactory.

Letters and Comment.

"Dear Mr. Puzzle Editor—I come with my first answer to your puzzles.

I am not yet in my teens, am small for my age and my people think I am mighty smart and cunning. B. F.

Seabrook, Box 112, Milton, Fla."

"P. S.—You can send that dollar by mail. It is cheaper than express."

I agree with your people. You may be "little, but O, my! That dollar goes to you via U. S. M. just as soon as your answer is the first drawn from the correct ones."

"Puzzle Editor. Dear Sir—We are from Selma, Ala., and are visiting at the same place, so we will send our answers together. We hope we won't get them thrown out and hope one of us will get that "Almighty Dollar."

Respectfully, Rebecca Craig and

Mary Lou Chisolm, 31 E. Gadsden, city."

Here you are, young ladies. Thrown out indeed, when both are correct and so nicely written. If you don't get the "almight dollar" this time, just keep trying till you do.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment.

At any drug store, 50 cents.

LIVES DEARER THAN OUR VERY OWN

How many lives dearer to us than our very own have been placed in needless jeopardy by failure to provide against and forestall the great suffering which too frequently accompanies and follows the bearing of children? That we would do anything within our power to obviate the possibility of such an happening is too patent to admit of question; therefore—mark well this fact—a liniment, by name, has been devised, whose function it is to prepare in advance the muscles and tissues intimately associated with parturition.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

This liniment is for external application. By its use the parts are relaxed, and enabled to withstand not only the actual strain brought to bear on them during accouchement, but also to rally from this ordeal and speedily regain their normal proportions and tonicity. It is not irritating to the most sensitive surfaces, and is applicable to all cases. It's not enough to call it Mother's Friend—it's the friend of the whole family. $1.00, all druggists. Book "Motherhood" free.
